1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 13, 15-18, 21-25, 32 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Goda 3,741,444. Goda discloses a dispensing device including a reservoir 10, an ejection assembly 40 that is supported on a wall 33 of the reservoir, an actuating member push-button 44 with a vertical actuating direction on the central axis of the reservoir 10, a flexible connecting tube connected to the actuating member at a first end horizontal direction 60 and a second end 75 connected to an outlet member 70 in a second and different direction that is adjustable by the user orientation of arm 99 and can be adjusted to a position that does not extend in the same vertical flat plane as a line directly connecting the actuating member and the outlet member wherein the outlet member is fixedly connected to the reservoir at 73. In regard to claims 32 and 33, Goda has a dip-tube 61, an outlet sleeve into which 60 is inserted, and a nozzle 81 that is arranged horizontally as claimed with respect to the support 70 and the overall device.
3. Claims 19, 20 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goda 3,741,444 in view of Lee 2003/0160070. Goda discloses a dispensing device substantially as claimed but does not disclose the reservoir to be non-circular. However, Lee teaches another pump dispenser that is non-circular as shown in figures 4 and 7. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made that the reservoir of Goda could be non-circular as, for example, taught by Lee because one of ordinary skill in the art would have considered the rectangular and oval shapes of the Lee reservoir as shown in figures 4 and 7 as art recognized equivalents that would work equally well for the Goda reservoir with a high probability of success and would have been an obvious variation to try in the Goda dispenser.

4. Claims 32 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Campbell 2,655,287. Campbell discloses a dispensing device including a housing that contains a reservoir 10, a pump 60, a dip tube 50, a manually depressed push-button 12, an horizontal outlet sleeve 107, a flexible tube 14 connected to the sleeve at a first end and a horizontally arranged nozzle 20 as shown in figure 1 connected at a second end 108 of tube 14 wherein the nozzle 20 is horizontally connected to various fixtures 26 as shown in figure 1 wherein at least some of the fixtures will be oriented in a direction that is different from the horizontal sleeve 107 as claimed.

5. Claims 13, 15-23, 25 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Campbell 2,655,287 in view of Goda 3,741,444. Campbell discloses a pump dispensing device substantially as claimed but does not disclose the pump or the actuator 62 to be aligned along the central axis of the reservoir. However, Goda teaches another pump dispenser having the actuator and pump 43, 44 aligned along the central axis of the reservoir 10 for the purpose balancing the force and weight distribution of the device. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the dispenser of Campbell with a centrally located actuator and pump as, for example, taught by Goda in order to balance the force and weight distribution of the device. In regard to claim 19, the reservoir is oval as shown in figure 2.

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
